

Paul Arnott

Leading the way in Coly Valley

As Leader of East Devon District Council, Paul backed Richard Foord to become our MP at last summer's historic by-election. They've campaigned together ever since on local environmental concerns, the housing crisis, the local economy and the fight for fair funding from central government.

Experienced councillor Paul Arnott has been chosen by the Liberal Democrats to fight the East Devon Council Election for the Coly Valley on May 4th.

Paul and his family have lived in Colyton for more than twenty years. He became a reforming parish councillor in 2007 and your district councillor in 2019.

In May 2020 as the Covid crisis was beginning Paul was asked by fellow councillors to lead an alliance of LibDems, Independents and Greens at EDDC. His fellow councillors have re-elected him as Leader for the last three years.

He is currently campaigning:

- To deliver more affordable and social housing to address the homes crisis
- To ensure that inappropriate developer dominated housing policy is rejected
- To continue EDDC's support of business and the tourist sector to promote our unique character

"Paul Arnott has a record of action and promises more"

Paul topped the poll last time but he is again up against the wealthy Conservative Party machine. Every vote will count this time too.

PROTECTING OUR ENVIRONMENT

As Leader, Paul created two Cabinet roles looking after the Environment. He will continue to lead efforts to stop local pollution incidents in the Axe and the Coly and to deal with sewage pumping scandals affecting our nearest seaside towns.

FIGHTING FOR THE LOCAL NHS

Paul had a bone marrow transplant for leukaemia in 2012 and knows that our wonderful staff of the NHS saved his life. He passionately believes in bringing more services back into Axminster and Seaton hospitals.

A STRONG LOCAL VOICE

Paul has written more than 150 weekly articles about East Devon for local papers in the last three years. He always listens and will always help residents whatever their affiliation.

Paul is campaigning to stop pollution incidents affecting our rivers and beaches, especially the water company sewage pumping scandals.
